

NEW MONOPOLY - MASTER SONG LIST

Instructions: 1) Please place a "✓" check mark next to those songs you would like to hear 2) Place a "√", and also a circle around the box, if the song is an absolutely "must play" selection 3) Place an "X" in the box next to any song you would like us to avoid. Leave all others blank. New Monopoly does not use set-lists; we choose all songs in real time during each set. As a general rule - the more songs that are available for us to choose from, the easier it is to pick the right to keep your dance floor packed. The more "X"s, the more difficult it is to effectively choose songs to keep your guests engaged.

- Important! - Please do not entirely blacken, cross out, or scratch out songs that you do not want to hear - simply place an "X" in the box, otherwise we can't see what we're avoiding!
- We will learn, to the best of our ability, a maximum of one song not on this list, per engagement, we must have a minimum of 90 days notice to prepare.
- Our DJ will be more than happy to provide pre-recorded music for break time. If you have specific material you would like us to play, we encourage you to bring a flash drive or iPod loaded with your favorite material for our breaks. This way you are guaranteed to always hear your favorite songs throughout the entire evening.
- Please print and mail, or scan and email (information@newmonopoly.com), the completed list to us at least 90 days prior to your event.
- Please do not staple this packet together, as future scanning will be compromised.

One fact we are extremely proud of is the fact that, if you should desire, we are able to perform an evening of entirely 70's music, 80's music, 90's-00's music, Oldies, Motown, or current hits. While most clients wouldn't want to limit themselves to music from a single decade, or such a small timeframe of hits, the exhaustive nature of our offerings allows us tap into the unique feeling of nostalgia evoked by a particular time and style of music. In many cases, we have more material in a particular genre to offer than specialty groups.

Our list is legitimate, not 75 tunes with a lot of filler that we don't truly have prepared. What you request is what you will get, just so long as your dance floor remains packed. Unfortunately, just because you may love a song on the radio, it may clear the dance floor in the middle of your event, something that is difficult to recover from. Our music director, who selects all songs in real-time as your evening progresses, considers it his primary job to assure that you and your guests are dancing and enjoying themselves. The selection of the right song at the right time is a definite skill: reading the crowd's mood in order to gauge what should come next. We understand those dynamics well and, consequently, do not use pre-planned set lists- literally, the next song we play is chosen 15 seconds before we play it. It is this nimble approach that allows us to do things that other groups wouldn't even think of trying. In this regard, we are trying unique

New, current "radio hits" are constantly being learned, audience tested, and, finally, permanently added to this, our master song list. We add material only after we've had the opportunity to fully test and determine if the material mixes well with our existing selections, and if our audiences stay on the dance floor when the tune(s) are performed. We are fortunate that we have such a wide variety of vocalists, instrumentalists, and technology at our disposal so that the songs themselves always sound great. The intense prep time, plus rehearsal, makes deciding how best to allocate a finite set of resources a necessity, so we carefully choose the right material to invest time in, instead of just learning a bunch of tunes that sound "ok" and seeing what sticks, with nothing really sounding like the recordings. With that said, if there is an extremely popular current song that you don't see here, but are seeing consistently on other play lists, there is a strong chance the song is in the preparation stage and simply has not have found it's way onto the main list - please ask! if a particular song is important to you, and you see that most other live entertainers are offering the tune, we will put you in direct contact with our music director, and he can work with you to make sure you are entirely satisfied with the music choices for the entire evening. While we must limit the number of new songs, not on this list, for each engagement to (1), and we must know about your request 90 days in advance, it is primarily to ensure that our arranger can complete the necessary written charts for each instrumentalist, as well as to allow the group time rehearse so that nothing ever sounds unfinished or rushed. The only caveat that we tell all our clients is this -- if you ask us to learn a song for your first dance that features a very distinctive lead vocalist, or an instrumentation that does not suit New Monopoly, we will bring this to your attention and bring you options on how to proceed. We are able to cover a lot of material, but we can't mimic everyone exactly. We do our best, but sometimes this is not enough, especially for the most important song of the evening. We strive to make the music sound nearly-identical to the original, but we cannot guarantee our lead vocalist will sound like the male lead on the original song you have chosen. We want your special day to be one that you will always remember as being the best day of your life, so we will always communicate to you what we feel would be the best choice for every musical situation. That said - 90% of the music we have learned for first dance selections has been more than acceptable.

Also remember that except during toasts and blessings, there is music, in some form, being played the entire evening - during breaks, during dinner, etc. Should you desire, we can meet and customize playlists for our DJ to 'spin' while the band is not on stage, mixing up the evening with even more music that you love!
